

At 811Q we Strive for Five

Data-Driven Instruction helps us to identify next steps and to determine what SDI to use to help students achieve their goals.

Self-assessments are done in the forms of eye gaze, thumbs up, emojis, verbal responses, rating scales, and more so students take ownership over their own learning.

At P811Q, we create opportunities for students to have student-to-student interaction in every lesson. All students get the support they need to talk to their peers.

For all students to understand the goal of the lesson, teachers are required to create student-friendly learning goals, which are reviewed at the beginning of class and throughout the class, and prominently displayed for students.

Specially designed instruction is the unique set of supports provided to an individual student based on his or her learning needs to remove barriers that result from the student's disability
